
CHRISTA TSITIRIDES

Christa holds a Bachelor of Commerce degree with a major in Finance from Concordia University.

She started her career with SR Telecom Inc., a Montreal based telecommunications equipment manufacturer as a sales administrator and quickly was promoted to Account Manager, Project Manager Middle-Eastern Africa, and ultimately Manager, Middle East, Sales. Her responsibilities included developing partnerships with customers and agents within her territory and identifying new business and market opportunities. She worked very closely with the sales teams in these geographies and led many successful bids for large turnkey programs.

She subsequently moved to Mitec Telecom Inc., another Montreal-based telecommunications equipment manufacturer, where she held the position of Manager, Global Sales and Marketing Operations. In this role, she managed customer service teams to ensure timely and professional service to Mitec's worldwide clientele. She developed and executed marketing, training, and information programs to both internal and external customers.

As a Project Manager with Alan Davis & Associates Inc., Christa has led many search assignments to successful conclusions. She has worked extensively in the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, transportation, retail, and aerospace industries. She is completely devoted to taking full responsibility for projects and assignments and to carry them through to a successful conclusion.

Christa displays great empathy with both Clients and candidates and has shown great skill in leading complex negotiations for senior-level hires. She also displays a "get it done" attitude, which has helped her in ensuring that our customers get to hire the best talent available.

Christa is fluent in English, French and Greek.
